Who is aMAYZing Kids and why did they publish this guide and report?

For the past 6 years, aMAYZing Kids therapists have helped families say goodbye to hyperactivity, work with ADHD, poor focus, and the issues that accompany it. The families we help now have happier, stronger family relationships and are able to participate in family events with enthusiasm. Hearing their appreciation and gratitude has inspired aMAYZing Kids to publish this free report so others may benefit from their knowledge, without dependence on medication.

aMAYZing Kids is on the mission to End Hyperactivity.

“We believe that hyperactivity can be mislabeled, mistreated, and over medicated. This decreases motivation and prevents a family to know how to complete their pursuit of happiness. After being freed from the chains of not knowing how to help, we see the true child and parent reawaken...and it’s glorious.”

In this special guide...

on saying goodbye to hyperactivity, we reveal secrets that most people are simply not aware of.

Even though a lot of advice and tips float through social media regarding ADHD and Hyperactivity, most of it addresses only the symptoms and not the true cause.

Many of us have personally had a child with hyperactivity and know how frustrating it can be for the entire family.

The cold hard truth is that well-meaning doctors and other healthcare practitioners may respond with medication as parents are eager to “fix” their child or say it is ok to wait and that they will probably grow out of it ...but they don't understand how important it is to catch this early.

This report reveals how to actually get to the root cause of hyperactivity, without medication, if you put in the time to read the entire report...and apply it.

It really doesn't take much time to apply the secrets and it's completely free.

You'll be shocked to see how fast you start seeing results and the impact it can have on your entire family.

We have to be completely honest with you and say...

without knowing your child's personal history and the details of your personal experience, we cannot tell you which of these will work best for you. And there are no guarantees that it will resolve your problem completely.

But what we do know, is that with this knowledge in your hands, you are on your way to a brand-new outlook on life especially if you apply all, or most, of the secrets mentioned in this report.

What others, just like you, have found MOST beneficial about this free exam is that they were able to discover:

1. The root cause of their issues
2. The single biggest mistake they were making that was ACTUALLY making things worse.
3. One simple tip that eliminated their child's teachers, coaches, and grandparents complaints about their child's behavior
4. The top solutions that help to solve their uncertainty about not knowing what to do for good so they can improve family time.

Here are 7 secrets you might want to start right away, before your free exam:

1. Use visual schedules

Why? Quite simply, it's the absolute best way to keep on task and see positive results of getting work done. You will select the tasks that your child must do or needs to do yourself, and then balance those with letting your child pick tasks that they want to add into the schedule.

2. Teach your child yoga

Why? The warrior pose is an active position without movement. It is easy to learn, but the active muscles used to hold and assume good posture help to build focus, body awareness, and slow down an active mover. Child pose is a good calming technique. Teaching how to be aware of breathing and counting in and out breaths is another good way to teach your child to pause and have breaks when needed.

3. Provide appropriate sensorimotor input

Why? Quite simply, children need sensorimotor input through the vestibular, auditory, visual, and tactile system. When too much or too little, or all it once, it can often feel like a traffic jam inside of your child which can lead to negative behaviors.

4. Improve feeding and nutrition

Why? While your child may seem to be eating okay, children with lack of attention and focus often have trouble sitting still for meal times. They may become picky eaters out of avoidance of foods that take too long to eat or chew or often have sensitivities to different textures. Without proper blood sugar regulation and nutrition your little one will have a harder time controlling their energy levels

5. Use common terms and the same “language” for all

Why? When trying to teach new skills, reinforcement by repeated use of the same directions, schedules, and buzz words and terms will really help. Providing teachers, grandparents, babysitters, and coaches all with the same basic directions and words to use and to have the same expectations will really help your child.

6. Identify weaknesses in the body

Why? It's hard to sit up straight or stay at a desk when poor posture and lots of extra range of motion in a child's joints allow them to wiggle and move way more than others. We combine multifunctional movements with the fun of martial arts to help give your child balance, strength, and stability.

7. Work on the necessary life and social skills

Why? Once your child has the skill set to help them stay focused, having multiple opportunities to practice life skills with multiple people will make this skill permanent and easily used. Social skills are important too. By having a team approach with multiple specialists and available buddy groups and peers in our program, we will help make this happen.

Conclusion

See...it's not your fault that you feel overwhelmed.

There are so many different parts, we are here to help guide you through them all.

We want you to know...

- it's important to us that you help your child pursue their dreams so they can become the person they were designed and meant to be
- we can help remove the obstacles stopping you
- you can trust us to be there for you and listen to your concerns

When this has been accomplished and your child's health restored with new positive life skills, it will be glorious, and you can thank us then.

But until then, start the things mentioned in this report and call us to schedule your free exam.

We believe in you.
